CONTEXT

BIOGRAPHICAL HISTORY

The history of the Lodge de Goede Hoop dates back to May 1772 when, on the strength of a temporary authority, it was founded. Its constitution was approved on November, 1772. The Lodge became inactive in 1785, but was revived in 1793 through the exertions of one Francois Duminy. From 1795 membership increased to such an extent that authority was granted for the formation of a second Lodge in Cape Town, the Lodge de Goede Trouw.

Originally the Lodge de Goede Hoop held its meetings in a house in Plein Street; but, owing to the rise in membership, the garden Domberg bordering on Stal Plein was bought in 1800 for £1400 and the erection of a temple was begun. The temple was inaugurated on 7 July 1803 by Commissioner - General J.A. de Mist, himself a prominent freemason in Holland. A new recreation hall adjoining the temple was completed in 1816. [2]

In 1813 the Freeman's Education Fund was established by the "Effective Members" and shareholders of the Lodge de Goede Hoop. The Lodge de Goede Trouw and the British lodge were invited to join; but, on their declining, it was resolved to start the undertaking under the direction, management and control of the Lodge de Goede Hoop. [3]

The Fund commenced with a capital of Rds.3000 to which the symbolique Lodge contributed Rds.100, and the four Chapters each Rds.500. It was subsequently increased by gifts and donations from both masons and "profanes" or non - masons. It was resolved that the Fund should be administered by a Committee of seven "Effective Members", presided over by the Deputy Grand Master National in office. The master of the chair of the Lodge was an ex officio member of the Committee. In case of a vacancy of any member of the Committee, a meeting of "Effective members" was to fill the vacancy by the election of a member out of their own number. [4]

The object of the Education Fund was the promotion of arts and science. Classes in drawing, modelling, geometry and architecture were conducted by the famous South African sculptor Anton Anreith who had a number of pupils under his tuition. [5] On Anreith's death in 1822, classes ceased and the Committee, with the concurrence of the "Effective members", resolved to employ the entire revenue of the Fund in aid of university education. [6]

The Lodge de Goede Hoop is the oldest society in the Republic and also one of the few who have ensured that their archives are permanently preserved.

The Lodger's archives are of particular importance for the biographical information they contain. Many of the best known of the old Cape personages were members of the brotherhood. Well - known names such as Sir Johannes Truter, Sir Christoffel Brand, Abraham Chiron, J.C. Gie, J.H. Hofmeyr, Michiel van Breda, are but a few of those appearing in the membership register.

CONTENT AND STRUCTURE

SCOPE AND CONTENT

The series 'Minutes of the Board of Management', August 1799 - May 1963 constitutes an important series. (Volumes 1/1/1/1 - 1/1/1/30). Minutes prior to August 1799 and for the various missing periods within the series could not be traced. 'Draft Minutes', October 1879 - July 1885 (Volumes 1/1/2/2 - 1/1/2/4) can be consulted as an alternative source for one of the missing periods within the series 'Minutes'.

The 'Annexures to Minutes' February 1803 - December 1899 contain the papers received by the Secretary of the Lodge. (Volumes 1/1/5/1 - 1/1/5/29). The series is fairly complete except for annexures prior to February 1803 and for a few other periods for which no annexures could be located.

From January 1900 the series 'Annexures to Minutes' was succeeded by a separate series of 'Letters Received' which covers the period January 1900 - July 1913. (Volumes 2/1/1/1 - 2/1/1/8).

A parallel series 'Letters Despatched' commences in March 1872 and runs in sequence until November 1917. (Volumes 3/1/1 - 3/1/8). Lacunae occur within the series for the periods August 1873 - September 1877, January 1901 - June 1904 and September 1910 - April 1915.

From the archives it is evident that in 1914 a beginning was made to combine the separate series 'letters Received' and 'Letters Despatched' in a series of 'General Correspondence'. (Volumes 4/1/1 - 4/1/8).

The 'Main Cash Books', although none prior to 1794 seem to have been preserved, are of the oldest of the documents deposited in the Cape Archives Depot and supply information on the Lodge's financial transactions from 1794 to 1897. (Volumes 7/1/1/1 - 7/1/1/9).

The archives of the various committees, funds and societies of the Lodge have been arranged and described from the main body of the archives which follows the original filing of such archives by the Lodge authorities prior to depositing in the Cape Archives Depot.

The archives of the Education Fund is by far the most complete. Although the Fund was commenced in 1813, the 'Minutes' begin only in January 1848, earlier minutes not having been traced. (Volume A1/1/1). The series 'Letters Received', however, dates from the commencement of the fund, July 1913 and continues until July 1907. (Volumes A2/1/1 - A2/1/3)

The arrangement and description of accrual to the archives necessitated the alteration of volume numbers. In all such instances, the old volume numbers have been mentioned alongside the revised numbers throughout the inventory

On the whole, the archives is in a fairly good state of preservation, but a number of individual volumes have been badly damaged by water, making the writing in such volumes almost illegible.
